

Headquartered in Amsterdam, Effactory International is Europe's leading employee-survey specialist. It aims to provide organizations with innovative HR tools and solutions to guide them to continually drive employee engagement.

"Two teams have started using Project Online for timesheets, and it's been much faster to enter their hours. We also used to have to wait a couple of hours until a project plan was final; now you can create a new plan in a few minutes."

Onno de Wildt,

Process Developer, Effactory International

SITUATION

Effactory wanted to reduce the time spent writing surveys and planning projects. Using Microsoft Project Server 2003 and in-house applications, the organization decided to standardize on a cloud-based solution and upgraded to Project Online.

BENEFITS

- Increased flexibility and precision in project planning for each survey
- Better overview for project managers on project and project-portfolio level
- More insight on upcoming tasks; easy to add and delete tasks quickly
- Improved capacity management
